John Caldwell [60] and Mary Young [61], both of County Antrim, were married in Ireland. William, their first child, was born about 1760 near Belfast. The family of three emigrated to America in 1767(1); they sailed from Belfast,Ireland directly to Charles Town, South Carolina.(2) Immediately after arrival, John Caldwell secured the King's grant to a tract of land in Up Country near Moore's Station.(3)

The Nazareth Presbyterian Church, which was to become a well-known landmark in the area, was erected about one mile from the Caldwell farm and dedicated in 1772.(4) The Caldwells thus became a part of the Tyger River settlements of immigrants from North Ireland.(5)

(2) Charles Town was renamed Charleston when South Carolina entered the Union in 1788.

(3) In 1769, the province of South Carolina was divided into seven judicial districts; one was called Ninety-Six. Informally organized by 1785, Spartanburg District in 1798 was one of five districts formed from Ninety-Six. See The Handy Book For Genealogists, by G.B. Everton, 1981, page 254. After the Civil War, "Districts" became "Counties."

(4) The Nazareth Presbyterian Church is located about six miles from the center of the city of Spartanburg. See MILL'S ATLAS 1825 OF THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA for an 1820 map of the Spartanburgh District showing the location of the church. What the people of the "Upper District" endured during the early days was summarized by the Rev. George Howe in his "Centennial Discourse," at Nazareth Church, 14 SEP 1861. (5) The origin of the CALDWELL family has been traced from Italy until about the time of the Reformation, into France in Toulon around 1500, then England, Scotland, Ireland and America. See Leonardo Andrea Collection, L.D.S. Genealogy Society Film No. 954,539, Salt Lake City, UT 84050. Also, see T.H. Caldwell contributions to CALDWELL WORKBOOK: SUPPLEMENT TO WORKBOOK (1966), by Anderson, Mrs.J.Q.

In addition to William, John Caldwell and Mary Young had two more sons, John and Samuel A. [30] as shown on the family group sheet. The father's age at the time of the Revolution was such that his son William enlisted as a substitute for him (6). William's brother John was of a "messenger" age; Samuel A. was just seven in 1780. See the John Caldwell/ Mary Young family group sheet.

d. 12/20 April 1840

m. Margaret (Margret) Crawford, 20 DEC 1792

William, the son of John Caldwell, was brought to America by his parents and while residing in Spartanburg District, South Carolina, he enlisted as a substitute for his father. He first served as a scout, then as a private under Capt. John Collins and Capt. John Barry. On 20 August 1780, he enlisted and served under Capt. John Collins, Capt. John Barry, Capt. Samuel Nisbett, Col. Thomas, and Col. Roebuck and was in the battles at Kings Mountain, Blackstock's Plantation, Cowpens, and Watkin's Fort. In the battle at King's Mountain, Caldwell saved the life of Robert Henry by removing a bayonet that had pinned Henry's hand to his thigh. In the battle at Cowpens, one of Caldwell's comrades recognized one of the men in the British ranks, standing behind a tree, and shouted to Caldwell: 'Don't shoot that man, for he is my brother.' Caldwell's wife was the second child and oldest daughter of Patrick Crawford who had been accidently killed by his best friend, Thomas Moore, late in the war. It is thought that Crawford and Moore were with Caldwell in the battle at Cowpens since all three were members of Capt. Barry's company. Margaret Caldwell, who died 22 October 1863, raised eleven children. John C. and James became magistrates in Spartanburg District, Patrick became a blacksmith, and the fourth son, William Harvey, was a distinguished citizen. The daughters were: Mary (Polly) Miller, Jane McKerley (McCarley), Catherine Hadden, Elizabeth Hadden, Ann Anderson, Margaret Gaston, and Eleanor Wright. Tories led by "Bloody Bill" Cunningham's .. hacked the boy John Caldwell to pieces

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

It has been said that in the Spartanburg District during the Revolution the most bloody foes were neighbors, acquainted with each other's ways and more unforgiving than those who had crossed the ocean.(7) Some became active partisans in the service of the Revolution - the Whigs. Others became perhaps even more strongly supportive of the status quo - the Tories. Near the close of the Revolution (November, 1781) the boy John Caldwell, age about 10, was murdered (hacked to pieces) by the Tories under "Bloody Bill" Cunningham at Poole's Iron Works.(8) Understandedly, William Caldwell thereafter had an inveterate hatred for the Tories.

However the Tories, once so hated, are no longer assailed by American historians merely because they gave their devotion to the British Empire. Following the Revolution, it is perhaps remarkable that the patriots were so lenient, especially in the South, where the loyalists fought bitterly and were guilty, with the patriots, of many atrocities.

Again quoting Landrum,

"After the war was over and American Independence was gained, William Caldwell settled down and went to farming. He was a good neighbor and citizen. On February 20th, 1792, he married Margaret, second child and oldest daughter of Patrick Crawford, whose sad fate has been handed to the present generations by tradition only. Patrick Crawford, through mistake, was killed during the latter part of the Revolution by his best friend, Thomas Moore, in an engagement near Cashville, in Spartanburg county. They were both members of Captain Andrew Barry's company. The company was to rendezvous at the two roads above Cashville for the purpose of following up a noted Tory scouting party. Two parties of said company came in contact, each believing the other the enemy they were seeking. Patrick Crawford was at the head of one of the Whig scouts and was killed before the mistake was discovered. Thomas Moore took deliberate aim and killed him in the fight, which continued until Captain Barry's noted dog trotted between the combatants, and seeing old Hunter, as the dog was called, they at once realized their mistake and ceased firing. It is said that Mr. Crawford's name was never mentioned afterward in Thomas Moore's presence without bringing tears to his eyes."

"William Caldwell, when he married to Margaret Crawford, was about thirty-two, while his bride was only about fifteen years of age. The latter was a lifelong member of the Nazareth Church, and as good a woman as any sleeping in the cemetery near by."

"By the marriage between William Caldwell and Margaret Crawford eleven children were born, four sons and seven daughters, and all were raised. [See the William Caldwell/ Margaret Crawford family group sheet.] The boys grew up and became good and useful citizens. Two of them, John C. and James, filled the office of magistrate for many years, to the credit and satisfaction of the people of the Spartanburg District. They both, living in different sections of the district, did a good deal of business, especially James, as he moved to and lived in the upper part of the district, on South Pacolet, near Gowensville, a section in which there was no other magistrate."

"Patrick Crawford Caldwell, one of the four sons referred to, was a blacksmith of good repute and an excellent citizen. William Harvey Caldwell, another son, was also highly esteemed as a citizen."

"All the daughters of William Caldwell grew to womanhood, and all married, making good wives, good mothers, and useful women. They, it is said, were all noted for their domestic refinement and cleanliness - one of the chief Christian virtues. Their names were Polly Miller, Jane McCarley, Katie Young Hadden, Elizabeth Hadden, Ann Anderson, Margaret Gaston, and Eleanor Wright."(9)

Samuel A. Caldwell [30] and Anna Dean [31] were married and started raising their family in Spartanburg County, SC (See the Samuel A. Caldwell/Anna Dean family group sheet). They moved to Bedford County, TN after the birth of their fourth child in 1818 and located near the East Fork of Big Flat Creek. Around 1849, they went to Lawrence County, TN.

Excerpts of letters:

Letter from J.M. Caldwell, Murfreesboro, TN dated 14 SEP 1852 to W.W. Caldwell, Lawrenceburg, TN:

Dear Brother:

I have received yours of the (?) inst. in which you say that father has become very much displeased with Jerry and wishes to know what I think would be done with him here. I will say this in reply that I have just been talking to a trader .... He says he has bought to the extent of his means or nearly so but thinks from the description I give of him that he can be sold here for $800 .....but he wants to swap a woman that he has ... she has a very likely girl child two years old and will be confined with another in about six weeks. ... There is another firm of traders here that have just started a large drove but one of the firm remains in Nashville and will come here any day that persons want to show him negroes for sale. General Lytle to is their agent here and will write and inform any day when there is negroes for sale here. They have paid from six fifty to eight hundred dollars for fellows lately ....

You may say to father that I am willing to do anything for him in this case that he desires and would come out and see him but cannot now, but if necessary when I hear from you again I will if my family is all well.

My family are all well as also the neighborhood generally. Ben and Catharine and children are all well and their Texas fever is fast cooling off, at all events until they have more children.

I have just got rightly to picking out cotton. My crop will be very short which distresses me when I think of travelling as money must be scarce with me it is my duty to my family to stop all the leaks that I can or I should have paid you all a visit before now.

Give my compliments to father and mother and all the relations in that country. Write soon and more particularly.

Yours as ever,
J. M. Caldwell

Letter from Tho. L.Brockman Pliny P.O. Greenville, South Carolina dated June 1, 1855 to Mr. Saml Caldwell & Mrs. Anna Caldwell:

Dear Cousins: On yesterday I saw my esteemed friend, Professor Mims, who is now in a low and critical state of health and I fear will never get well again. He informed me that he was at your house last winter and that Cousin Anna requested him to say to me that she would be glad for me to write to her, and I am glad to have it in my power to do so.

Cousin Thomas Dean and wife has lately visited old South Carolina and spent a day with me. I enquired after all of the relations. He informed me that you have moved some eighty miles west of him but were all well when he last heard from you. I will now give you some information concerning our family and will begin with your own first. You have no doubt heard that your brother John [Dean?] was dead, the most of his children have gone west. His only son living, Cousin J. Dean, is a lawyer and doing very well. Cousin [Cosa?] Miller is still living and all her children except Margaret who married Martin Crook, Jas. Crook son. She left some 3 or 4 children. I know very little of Wm. Allgood family. He is still living. He married again after the death of your sister. Cousin Joel & Alvin are living in Floyd County, Ga. Rome is their Post Office. Cousin Alfred lives in the same house that your father died with many additions and improvements. He has only four children living, his oldest son is a Dr. His name is Thomas P. He lives where Cousin Alfred first settled, married and doing well. His oldest daughter married a man by name of Sims. He parted from her and she died shortly after leaving one child. The child is now nearly grown and a fine looking girl. Frances married William Hay, son of William Hay. Alvin and George are nearly grown and now going to school studying the languages they heard at their cousin Genl Joel Millers.

My own family consist of eight daughters and two sons. Six of my daughters are married and my oldest son married and died in 1844 leaving one child. We lost two boys in infancy, my wife having had thirteen children. My oldest daughter married James Andersons oldest son David. We have a large family but they are much scattered. Two of them live in Alabama, one in Georgia, one in North Carolina and the other two in this state.

As respects the old people that you knowed they are nearly all dead and if you come to this country you would see but very few people you knew of the Caldwell family. Wm. Caldwell has been dead for many years. Hugh is still living and of the Williams family I think they are mostly all in this country and doing well. Of Andrew Caldwell I don't know where his family are. Out of all the old people that once lived in this neighborhood not one of them are living, all gone to that world that is inhabited by spirits.

Three of my sisters are living viz Lucy Brockman, Elizabeth Smith and Amelia Campbell. Polly Cannon Died in 1828, Anna Hammett about 1826 and Frances [Teden?] in the year 1832. Brother John and Joel are both dead. My father died in 1835 and my mother in 1842.

Now in conclusion you must write to me.

I am yours most Respectfully,
Thos. L. Brockman

"Samuel A. Caldwell, a very old man [past age 90], was said to have been returning with supplies from Lawrenceburg to the plantation when he encountered a company of negro soldiers with white officers. One of the soldiers didn't think he was obeying their command to dismount fast enough and bayoneted him in the chest. An officer came up and ordered him placed in the wagon and taken to a hospital in Memphis. A few days after he was returned home he contracted pneumonia and died. The reason for the officers action was said to have been the fact that Samuel was wearing his Masonic ring." His wife Anna survived Samuel by less than a month. (10)

The Samuel A. Caldwell/Anna Dean family group sheet shows the children beginning with

1. Mary Caldwell who married Frank Guthery.
2. John M. Caldwell is shown in Rutherford County TN in 1850 with wife Matilda, age 47, born in NC, son James age 13, son William age 12, daughter Mary A. age 7, daughter Elizabeth age 3.
3. William Warren Caldwell married, around MAY 1852, Piety [Peety] Amanda McQuestion who was born 12 FEB 1818 in TN. The names of five children: John born 1836, Benjamin born 1839, James L. born 1845, Thomas Benton born 1847, and Tennessee born 1849. In addition, the 1860 Census for TN Maury County shows: S.B. 20(m) which could be Benjamin, M.E. 18(f) unknown, T. B. L. 12(m) which is Thomas Benton with an additional initial, and S. A. T. 10(f) which shows the name Tennessee to be the third given name. The census shows the family to be in Bedford County TN in 1850 and Maury County in 1860. One son, Thomas Benton, is known to have married Frances E. Weaver; one daughter, Tennessee Caldwell, married a Mr. Briggs.(11)
5. Cassandra Caldwell married another Tennesseean, Albert Gallatin Snell. They were both age 30 in 1850. In 1850 the family, in Bedford Co TN, consisted of James, age 4, and Sarah, age 6/12.(12)

(13) Again quoting from a letter dated 4 FEB 1985 to C.F. White from Thomas Howell Caldwell, Wichita Falls, Texas:"My dad [Benjamin Franklin Caldwell] was born and raised in Caldwell, Ark., now a suburb of Forest City, where William Warren [Caldwell] settled at the end of the Civil War. Their property in Lawrence Co.[TN] was wiped out as they were in Grant's path during his march on Vicksburg. My grandfather, with several Lindsey's, cousins, founded Caldwell and built a cotton gin, sawmill, general store, etc. there."

"The story of James T.[Caldwell] was that he was a veteran, my dad thought with Quantell's Raiders, who until an old man was continually fighting the war over with a Union veteran in Forest City. They finally decided to settle the matter once for all with pistols down on the bank of the river. One of the Lindsey boys and my dad heard them making plans and ran and told James' wife and my grandmother. They ran down to the riverbank and marched both of them home for a proper lecture."
